

February 2010

AMRRIC is a not for profit organisation based in Darwin with a National Focus. Our funding is miniscule but our reach and effect is mighty.

Not funded for an IT person to set up and manage our website on a day to day basis, the Executive Officer needed to develop skills in a hurry to undertake this foreign task.

The language and mechanisms for undertaking this task were very foreign indeed. I needed a simple enough tool to achieve our vision of an up to date, flexible website that conveys the messages of our work.

This is where the people at Dolphin Software came in.

They set us up with a Drupal site, designed it in close consultation with and according to our needs and worked closely with us to achieve our vision.... and still do.

They have patiently supported an 'IT illiterate' person to manage the previously unmanageable!

We are slowly building on this concept adding in components such as databases etc as we learn. And they make a great coffee to support you as you learn!
